STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES
STATEMENT TO ALL FOR-EIGN EMBASSIES AT WASHINGTON.

NEUTRAL PORTS OPEN

Armed Vessels Will Probably be Admitted to All Neutral Ports With Possible Exception of Holland.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington, March 12.—Formal note that American ships traversing the German submarine zone are to carry "armed guard for the protection of the vessels and the lives of persons on board" was sent by the state department today to embassies and legations of all foreign governments in Washington. Following is the text of the communication as made public by the state department:

"In view of the announcement of the Imperial German government on Jan. 31, 1917, that all ships, those of neutrals included, met within certain zones of the high seas, would be sunk without warning, being taken for the safety of persons on board, and without exercise of visit and search, the government of the United States has determined to place upon all American merchant vessels sailing through the barred areas, an armed guard for the protection of vessels and lives of persons on board."

The position, it is expected, will be sent to the Swiss legation here. No obstacle will be placed in the way of such action. Whether other neutral governments will admit American armed ship to their ports is a question left to decide. It is not expected here that objections will be made. Holland is the only neutral known to have barred armed merchantmen from her harbors.

State department officials did not wish to make it clear whether it was mandatory for all American vessels to have arms, or whether they might sail without them if they so desired. The navy department's position is that it will equip all ships, all ships whose owners supply for it.

Permitting for clearance of the French liner Rocharmeau, New York belligerent merchantman, which arrived in an American harbor with guns mounted fore as well as aft, was granted by the state department which ruled the Rocharmeau, as a passenger carrying arms, playing at war, a notorious, irresponsible merchantman entitled to take adequate precaution against illegal attack.

Navy Yard Plot.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.—Federal officials again today continued an investigation into the activities of persons charged with smuggling arms, munitions and supplies to auxiliary craft serving in the navy yard, and persons suspected of having a hand in the violation of custom laws. There are reports that federal authorities have discovered a plot to damage property in the naval yards in case of war between the United States and Germany.

EAST LONDON BLAST
CAUSED GREAT LOSS

London, March 12.—Five million dollars' damage was done and 100,000 windows broken by the explosion in the east end of London, according to the current issue of "Fins," a technical publication. The building in which the explosion occurred disappeared, and an immense crater 100 feet by 80 feet deep was formed.

"The triumph of ferro-concrete construction is the most striking feature of the catastrophe," the paper says. "Not only have such structures within the explosion area withstood the effect of the air wave, but they came through the ordeal of fire successfully."

The metal rods and laths within the concrete enabled the buildings to give slightly to the air wave, and struck the buildings with great violence, and with heavy structural work before the members of both houses all week. The assembly will work through Saturday and, expanding, passed through the opposite windows, thereby helping to straighten up the main structure again although fire was left behind. Such structures collapsed ignominiously, being pulled inward by the door and roof joists and girders.

"Not all the 100,000 windows broken were blown in; many were blown out by the air wave entering open doors; and creating a preliminary high internal pressure, sufficient to burst out some windows before the main blast arrived and blew in the remaining windows."

The paper finds that the damage will not exceed one-tenth of the value of the building, and that a preliminary inspection of the area might lead one to anticipate.

WILSON RECOVERED;
HOLDS CONFERENCES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

London, March 12.—Starting Saturday, street news vendors will no longer display posters to indicate the contents of the newspapers which they are selling. The object of conserving the paper supply, the government has issued an order, prohibiting the use of the "contents bills" as they are called, which have been so familiar on the streets of London.

MANY THEORIES IN THE ALBRIGHT CASE

Despite the efforts of the Boy Scouts, Saturday, in searching every outbuilding and barn in the immediate vicinity of the city, and of the police in investigating every clue presented, to track down Edward Albright, who disappeared from the home of his brother last Thursday morning, has been discovered.

According to the first report, Albright was suffering from delirium caused by pneumonia, and left the James Campbell residence on South Academy street, sometime between midnight and early Thursday morning clad only in his trousers, stockings and underwear. After an all day search Thursday and Friday the bloodhounds of the Rockford police department were called into action, but the only trace they could find of the missing man was where he had gone onto the railway right of way.

Then the theory was advanced that he had climbed on board a freight car on one of the early morning trains. However, every car in the trains in that vicinity during the hours in question has been traced and searched with particular care, and the theory that the missing man had gone onto the railway right of way.

Sentimental fair weather prices for wheat developed quickly after a leading expert here announced only 20,000,000 bushels remained available for export from United States prior to the new crop season, beginning on July 1. A surplus on the part of the government computed for the 1916 yield noted as 30,000,000 bushels was cited as another stimulus to buyers. Defeat of congressional efforts to sanction arming of United States merchant vessels tended on Monday however, to give the bears a temporary advantage.

And so too did unexpected smallness of decrease in the domestic visible supply total.

Varying reports thereafter as to condition of export demands made the market see saw until on Thursday big clearances from Baltimore and correct forecast of the government reports on farm reserve turned prices for the time being more decisively up grade.

Cancellations of interior purchases by seaboard exporters and an apparent halt in European demand seemed to become factors in the wheat market Friday. The sensational bullish government figure on supplies led to much eleventh hour buying but could not overcome holders' discouragement which had been intensified owing to advices that the Liverpool Steamship Owners Association declared the food control measures so far taken by British government had failed.

New Record for Corn. Corn established new high price records, chiefly as a result of soaring hog quotations and because of anticipation of the government report on farm reserves. Oats developed some independent firmness that was assured more or less to evidence of an urgent demand in Canada.

Continuance of the shortage lifted price to buy yesterday, and the day before, the market weakened somewhat in the face of the announcement that the British government had assumed control of all the land and bacon in the United Kingdom and would regulate British prices.

It has been learned that Albright demanded he be allowed to keep his trousers on Wednesday night and also requested his sister give him the money he had given into her care. Thursday morning he was missing.

SESSION OF SENATE TO END THIS WEEK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington, March 12.—The senate entered today upon its second and probably final week of the present session. Both houses of congress will meet in special session on April 16, and many senators are known to be anxious about as much of the intervening time as possible at home.

Adjournment of the special session is looked for after the senate considers a number of nominations, including that of Dr. Gary T. Grayson, naval attaché to President Wilson, to be medical director and rear admiral in the navy. No serious opposition to this nomination is expected.

Sen. Martin, majority leader, announced at the democratic caucus today that an effort would be made to get a vote at the present session on the treaty with Colombia providing a payment of $16,000,000 for partition of Panama.

While the suffrage bills will be on before the senate committee for hearing on Wednesday this week, the understanding seems to be that the bills will not be reported out and that an adjourned hearing will be held on the matter.

The Everett reciprocal insurance bill will be up before the assembly on Tuesday. Assemblyman John F. Buckley of Waukesha has raised a point of order against the Rosa amendment that it is not germane to the original bill. It is said that the passage of the Rosa amendment would mean the additional cost to the three fire insurance companies of Milwaukee of about $20,000 and would bring a total of $106,000 to the state. Assemblyman Rosa contends that his amendment is perfectly proper and will argue the point of order on Tuesday. Meantime Speake Whittet has been looking into the matter.

Miss Nellie Gillespie spent the weekend at Beloit and on Saturday attended the rural teachers' convention.

BULLISH ESTIMATE OF WHEAT SUPPLY SENDS PRICES UP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago, March 12.—Bullish estimates regarding the exportable surplus of wheat in the United States and as to the reserve on farms have given strength to values during the last week. The net result was a market unchanged to three cents higher. Corn gained three cents to 4½ cents. Oats 1½ cents to 1¾ cents, and provisions 15¢ to 72¢.

Report Short Supply.

Sentimental fair weather prices for wheat developed quickly after a leading expert here announced only 20,000,000 bushels remained available for export from United States prior to the new crop season, beginning on July 1. PATRIOTIC ADDRESS GUTHRIE'S LAST ACT

Tokio, March 12.—The last official act of George W. Guthrie, American ambassador to Japan, who died suddenly and perplexly here today, was the delivery of an impassioned address at the raising of the stars and stripes over the new American steamship office at Yokohama. Alluding to the present crisis, Mr. Guthrie said:

"God grant that America's love of truth, justice, freedom and democracy will still inspire us to inspire and guide us; that this flag and all that it stands for—justice, and freedom of the seas—may be undestroyed, and that we, too, if the day ever comes, may be willing to sacrifice all and to die, if need be, so that the flag may never be impaired."

Miss Nellie Gillespie spent the weekend at Beloit and on Saturday attended the rural teachers' convention.

NEW YORK PLANS A BIG WOMEN'S HOTEL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York, March 12.—Plans for the erection of an apartment hotel in the heart of New York's shopping district, where unmarried working women may rent rooms for four dollars a week were announced today. The structure will be four stories high and will contain four hundred well-lighted rooms. Food will be furnished in the restaurant at cost.

Great Decrease in Cold Storage Eggs.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, March 12.—Cold storage holdings of eggs on March 1st showed a decrease of 17.72 percent compared with Feb. 1st holdings. The department of agriculture shows 137,712 dozen of eggs in storage. Compared with a year ago, holdings show a decrease of 45 percent. American cheese in storage on March 1st was 12,066,756 pounds, a decrease of 35.16 during February and about 29 percent less than a year ago.

Madison, Wis., March 12.—Both houses of the legislature will reconvene tonight, with regular sessions, and with heavy legislative work before the members of both houses all week. The assembly will work through Saturday and, expanding, passed through the opposite windows, thereby helping to straighten up the main structure again although fire was left behind. Such structures collapsed ignominiously, being pulled inward by the door and roof joists and girders.

WILSON RECOVERED; HOLDS CONFERENCES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington, March 12.—President Wilson had completely recovered today from the cold which kept him in bed most of last week, and this morning held two conferences, first with Senator Marin, democratic leader of the senate, and the second with Secretary Lansing.

Great Decrease in Cold Storage Eggs.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, March 12.—Despite the submarine campaign and other risks, nearly as many immigrants came into the United States during the last six months as in the entire year 1916, when 298,826 entered, the federal bureau of immigration reported today. Of the 27,478 immigrants who came in January with the intention of remaining, 3,397 were English, 1,202 were from Germany. Three hundred Mexicans, 161 English and 121 French were excluded.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL TAKEN IN TORNADO

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New Castle, Ind., March 12.—With the coming of daylight, search of the ruins left in the wake of yesterday's tornado, which carried the death of at least 24 persons here, the serious injury of 36 others, and about $1,000,000 in property damage, was redoubled, and it was believed by those in charge of the relief work that several more bodies would be found. At least 150 persons were injured less seriously and were cared for in hospitals without being taken to hospitals.

Many Points Unheard From.

The reports and rumors also took a toll of lives in surrounding towns, but owing to crippled telephone service, these reports have not been verified. Three were reported to have been killed in Marion Summit, three in Moreland and three in New Lisbon. Word has not been received from the rural districts in the path of the storm.

The storm broke during a warm afternoon. It hit the western part of the town, and cut a path varying from a few feet to two blocks wide, easterly across the city. Practically everything in its path was leveled. Houses on one side which were not torn down completely, had windows broken and doors blown in. The storm swept through the fine residential section of the city and also through the sections inhabited by many workers and poor persons. It is in the poorer section of the city that rescuers expect to find more dead and injured.

Because of darkness and heavy fog last night, it was impossible to tell the extent of the damage. Three or four hours caught fire, and at least one body was found badly burned after the fire was extinguished.

The storm lasted only a few minutes. A heavy rain preceded the wind.

Busy With Rescue Work.

The entire city turned its attention to rescue work. Early today the work was being organized rapidly under Major A. P. Davis, the Indiana national guard, and Major Watkins in charge. Three companies of the Indiana national guard were here before one o'clock. A citizens' relief committee was being organized and will take the work of assistance.

A committee composed of John W. Rodgers of New Castle, Wm. R. Goodrich of Indianapolis, and Herbert S. Madday of Cincinnati issued a call for assistance for those who suffered in the storm. The committee said cash was needed more than other supplies. J. W. Mueller, in charge of the citizens' relief committee, said at least one hundred families will have to be cared for.

Freaks of the storm and narrow escapes were numerous. The Indiana Rolling Mills, one of the largest factories here, was demolished. C. W. Mouch, president of the company, was in the office at the time. He, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newhouse, rushed into a large vault where books and records are kept, and were uninjured. Two freight cars loaded with iron were on the track near the mills. Both were picked up by the wind and dropped some distance away.

Woman in Bed Unhurt.

The tornado swept along Lincoln avenue after hitting the rolling mills. Mrs. A. R. Sizler was in bed when the wind hit her home. The house was torn down, but she was picked up, carried to the street and dropped. A woman lay over the bed, but Mrs. Sizler was not injured. The South Side school house was demolished.

Beefsteak.
Beefsteak is an article of food which walks into a slaughter house on four legs and rides out in a suit and stockings.

Some folks like it rare. Exceedingly rare. So rare in fact that they tell the waiter to just clip off their ends and drag it in.

Other folks don't like it rare.
But with prices what they are they find it rare whether they like it or not. Other mighty rare, or totally extinct. One man we know was carried to the hospital the other day singing.

"Oh what is so rare as a day in June?"
A piece of the cow that jumps
over the moon."

This condition should not exist. We are in favor of more meat on beefsteak."

this "hope," and a black one at that, imbibes not in alcoholic refreshments.

But when it comes to soft drink stunts this ardent supporter of W. J. B. and his grape-juice crusade is awarded all local honors.

The soft drink champ is Joe Beesman, porter at the Smoke Shop. Joe has as big a capacity for liquids as a British tank has for shells. In demonstrating its powers in the Smoke as a regular wildcat, Joe has been boasting around the Smoke Shop and the barber shop that he could down more soda water, grape juice, malted milk, or anything else in the line or array which graces the shelves of the Smoke as these kinds, than any man in town. Of course he got away from making any statements as to his ability of downing toilet waters, hair oil and liquid soap used in the barber shop and confines his talk solely to regular refreshments.

What was termed Joe's bluff was called recently. But as it was done out, Joe really called the oysters. Given an hour's time, he succeeded in getting away with a total of fourteen bottles of pop and four malted milks. This consumption brought Joe a side bet of five dollars.

"An Able" does same this again if any two young gentlemen have any more of that air cash handy," he said as he drained the last drop of the fourth malted milk.

NEW PASTOR HEARD
BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Rev. Franklin F. Lewis Delivers Strong Address Initiating Ministry at Methodist Church.

A large audience greeted Rev. Franklin F. Lewis on Sunday morning, at the opening service of his new pastorate to the Carrigil Methodist church. Mr. Lewis is a fine speaker, with a great earnestness of purpose and sincerity of manner, expressed in his forcible utterances.

His text yesterday was taken from the ninth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles 31 verse, and his message condensed from this text was that
"the fundamental characteristics of a New Testament church is based on peace." He spoke feelingly of the new relationship of the labor to be done together in the local church and said that "there was nothing that we cannot do if we keep together, consolidating our purpose of faith and loving spirit, nothing was possible."

One of the greatest problems of the churches today, he said, is to keep all departments of work in mind of the one great purpose of the church of bringing hearts to Christ. Every church in the city he said, ought to have at least one thousand members. His goal of the great purpose of the ministry, to bring the sense of the eternal into the finite, to preach the nearness of God to man. "That a minister may know civics, science, music and art matters not so much as that he should try to know God."

One of the wonderful achievements of the church, he said, "is the fact of all denominations of the Christian religion uniting in peaceful work.
And now just at this time, when the nations are waging a bloody strife, it is a privilege for Christian people, whatever their creed, to unite in prayers for peace."

Mr. Lewis spoke very tenderly of the fact that in his new position he was "standing on holy ground, made so by a Sacred Presence." He gave a fine description of the "powers of the Holy Spirit which like a strong wind blows back the fog of superstition."

He has evidently radical ideas on securing new memberships for the church on the ground that "men need to have a better master." He closed his remarks by an ideal achievement, in which he allied together the "forces of labor and peace for the glory of the everlasting God."

Pleasant music was rendered by the newly organized church choir of twelve voices under the direction of Rev. Arthur, who also gave a violin sol-loco as an offering. Miss Lalla Soverhill sang a vocal solo, which was very enjoyable.

The following members of the local ministry were present and took part in the various exercises of the evening: Reverend Alcratzo, Chorings, Pierson, Evans, Lewis and Stevens.

An announcement was made of the various community meetings to be held this week and of a children's meeting to be addressed by Mrs. Lawson on Tuesday after school hours, at the parlor of the Congregational church.

Also mention was made of the fact that temperance headquarters would be opened in a store on Milwaukee street, next to the hardware store, and conducted there for the rest of the campaign, and that a banquet for the business men would be held at the Myers hotel on Wednesday, March 14 at seven o'clock. Addresses by prominent business men of adjoining cities and states will be heard.

CARDINALS TRIM STOUGHTON MOOSE IN PEERLESS GAME

Feature of Saturday's Game Is An-nouncement of Game Next Week.

—Stellar Aggregation to Be Here.

Lakota Cardinals had little difficulty in picking away with the Stoughton Moose Saturday night with a score of 14 to 13. The game, while fast from a standpoint of flow covered, lacked much of the pep that characterizes the Cards when they are working well. Both guard and attack were good, shooting and driving. Mischigan and Murphy were the only parts of the game that stood out. Both teams played with a lack of organization and science, that may be the style with Stoughton, but certainly is not what Janesville fans have come to expect from the home team. There was little of the short passing that the Cards teamwork that has made some of the other cards where the Cards have profited to nose out the victory. Both teams were in fine shape and played an excellent article of basketball. The driving attack of the Wisconsin men was the best displayed by them in years, while the Gophers put up a stubborn defense.

Captain Olsen, playing his last game on the home floor for Wisconsin, was the star of the game. Although he counted but one basket, his floor work was responsible for the other scores. He continually fed the ball to Chandler and Meyers, who entered the scoring column. The guarding of Olson was also a feature. On the guard was on the job all times and continually drove the Gopher forwards, Miller, who is one of the leading scorers of the conference, failed to score as heavily as he had done in all previous games. Carlson held him to one goal, which was a long shot from the middle of the floor.

For Minnesota, Kingsley, at center, was the shining star. He opened the game with two shots in succession, driving the Gopher forwards, Miller, who did not have their eye. They had plenty of shots but failed to count. The result of the game might have been very different if they had been able to score a fair percentage of their shots.

The first half ended with the count a tie at 8 and 8. The Badgers had a back stroke but could not gain a lead. The game remained even until the final five minutes of the half when Olsen and Chandler scored field goals. As soon as one team would score the other team would immediately repeat. Minnesota made a great effort to tie the count in the final period by playing the long shot game. Their efforts at the basket were not enough, however.

Wisconsin made all their points on field goals. Chandler was off form on free throws and did not score once in three trials. Minnesota on the other hand made five free throws out of a possible seven.

One of the largest crowds of the year was on hand to see the game. Over five hundred people were turned away because of the lack of seating space. Twenty-five hundred people were crowded into the gymnasium. The fans were wild throughout the contest as the score saw-sawed from one team to the other. The Badger roosters were surprised at the form displayed by the Gophers. In the past seven years the Minnesota school has not been represented by a team of such strength. They played a good article of basketball which kept the Badgers guessing throughout.

The defeat pushes the Gophers into second place in the conference race and the Badgers remain in third place. Illinois now leads the conference, but the Gophers have a chance of tying the count by winning next Northwestern on Saturday. The best the Badgers can do is to land in third position. One more game remains on their schedule, that being with Indiana on Thursday at Bloomington.

Following is the summary:

Wisconsin	—	Minnesota	—

ROLLER HOCKEY TEAM APPEARS FIRST TIME ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Janesville Team Will Battle With Fast Six From Racine—Local Players Busy Lately.

The first game of roller hockey to be played in Janesville in years is scheduled for Wednesday night. Members of the local team, which is a branch of the local club, which is a branch of the Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin league, are to be members in the Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin league to be organized some time next summer to be ready for an early start in the fall, will clash with the crack team from Racine.

For the past two weeks the Janesville team have been practicing. There has been a big turnout of rollers, experts and former hockey players in the squad and it is felt that an excellent team can be selected from the array.

Most of the players have had previous experience and under their guiding and coaching the crack team from Racine.

It is expected that the mainstays of the local team will be made up from "Rudy" Klemmer, Jack Conley, "Lucky" Blunkt, Fred Gaffey, Glenn Chase and Roy Worthington.

Members of the team are anxious to secure the services of a former local man named Shearor, who has played much in the east. He worked in Beloit recently but for some time he has not been heard from.

Edgerton won the undisputed state high school football championship last fall and everybody will be on the lookout for the state title this year.

Edgerton is the only team that was able to defeat Baraboo, last year's champions, and Madison. Six out of the six players were members of the state championship football team, and five of them are seniors and a majority of them are going to attend the university next fall, where there are many friends and supporters are confident they will make good.

The team has been coached by R. L. Lewis, a former Sun Prairie high school star who deserves unlimited praise for his fine, persistent work with the team.

The citizens of Edgerton are proud of the team and coach, first, because they are gentlemen and fine sportsmen either on or off the basketball floor, and secondly, because they can deliver the goods. They welcomed the team home Saturday evening in the good old Edgerton spirit.

PATRIOTISM.

In the checkroom of a Chicago hotel is a man with a limp. He walks with shoulders erect, still young, but his left leg drags somewhat despite all his efforts to stand erect. On the lapel of his coat is a tiny American flag. His features betray he is of a foreign race; his English, while clear and distinct, has the studied exactness of a man brought up to speak and think in an alien tongue. Yet he is a loyal American—by adoption.

Years ago he was a poor boy in Polish Russia. Son of a race that has suffered in all countries, all climates, under almost every flag, for their religious belief. He had been brought up in the teachings of the followers of Moses who do not accept Christ as the Son of God.

Years went by and Russia was engaged in war. Our little Jewish boy was drafted into the army, was shipped by the Great White Czar across the Siberian waste, where so many of his fellows had died in exile, into Manchuria. He was a soldier. He fought against the Nipponese. At Port Arthur he did his work valiantly, was wounded, a prisoner in the Japanese hospital. Cared for and treated, probably better than ever before in his life, he learned to appreciate and love these little Islanders that had proven themselves such fighting men. Exchange, he was sent back home; his left leg was crippled. No longer able to be a soldier, he returned to his native village, and then with his savings he crossed the broad Atlantic and came to America. He became an American citizen. His citizenship papers, his discharge from the Russian army, are precious possessions. He is an American, he wears the tiny insignia of his adopted country in his buttonhole and talks of Russia.

Son of a race that has been persecuted, born in a province that now Teutons have annexed, he is loyal to the Russian czar. He believes the Russian soldier, properly equipped, properly armed, is superior to any fighting man in the world—unless it be the Japanese. But Japan is now Russia's ally. It furnishes the army with powder and shell, with arms and munitions of war, and our American patriot believes Russia will win.

It was by accident he told his story, showed his wound left from the Japanese war, expressed his admiration for the soldier of the White Czar, and yet he stated proudly, "I am an American citizen. I would fight, I would die for the flag that has adopted me." It was not a blatant statement. Not one made to attract the plaudits of the crowd. It came from the heart. This little crippled foreigner would do his part, if need be, as willingly as one born with the silver spoon of American traditions in his mouth.

Is not this a type of patriot that others may well take their lesson from? Is not this foreigner, a man of an alien race, a product of the great melting pot of the American republics, an example that some others who are born and bred Americans, could well follow?" Asked his views on the senatorial situation, he smiled and said naively, "In Russia we do not talk politics. It is not safe, but I think those men who would not stand by the czar and object to the wishes of Mr. Wilson would find Siberia a fine country to repose in if they tried their present system in the land where I grew up."

THAT GARDEN PROPOSITION.

Really that suggestion in these columns, published last Friday, to the effect that some of the holders of vacant property in the city either turn them over to individuals for cultivation or to some organization for division, appears to have hit a popular chord. Several telephone communications, numerous letters, all point out the advantages that might be accrued from such an action.

The government crop reports on corn and wheat alone show that there is a great deficit in the holdings in the hands of the growers in these two grains at this period of the year as compared to last. The prices on the Chicago livestock market show a marked increase in prices, particularly in hogs that have sold at the top figure in the history of the market.

Higher hogs means higher prices for all swine products. Lard, bacon, ham and pork, considered staples in many a household. Higher prices must be paid the milk producers at least for the next six months until needed pasturing actually starts, another increased cost. The tubers are soaring higher and higher and the only solution appears to be "back to the soil."

Our citizens must live and they must be nourished, and this garden thought is not to be scorned at. It is a possible solution of the problem that confronts us. These vacant lots, the back yards that have been given to lawns and flowers, can all be utilized and as a result dollars can be saved to meet the increased cost in other lines that have followed the rise in food prices.

The high cost of living has not been confined to foodstuffs alone, but to clothing, fuel and all lines of public necessities. It costs us more to live, it costs us more to be sick, and even more to die than formerly. Whether it is the war, whether it is the failure of the crops last year, or whether it is because the people have become so accustomed to prosperity and the choicer cuts of meat, and spread more extravagant tables, and dress better than in days of yore, is not certain, but one thing is certain the H. C. L. is a problem.

WHY DELAY?

This delay on the part of the legislators to take definite action on the question whether Wisconsin citizens are to be given an opportunity to vote on the question of state-wide prohibition.

or not, is merely evading the question. A man who represents the big brewery interests in his argument against the bill, states that there is no hope of its being carried by the prohibitionists, and if they would expend half the money in seeing that existing laws were enforced it would be money well spent.

This is like Satan speaking against sin. Who violates the law, might be asked, but the representatives of these selfsame breweries? Who should see to the enforcement of these laws if not the retail liquor men themselves? The law is plain. The state authorizes its paid agents to see it enforced, yet when law enforcement is attempted it is met with the stubbornness of opposition from the hired attorneys of these selfsame breweries.

No, the state as a whole does not need to go down into its pockets to subscribe for funds to prosecute an element who know the law and should see that it is observed. The question of wet or dry as a state issue is coming to a vote sooner or later, and if the state goes dry it will be these selfsame, cocksure attorneys for the liquor interests who have deluded their employers; they know the temper of the people will accomplish it. Meanwhile let us have the right to vote on the question no matter what the result.

One writer suggests that if the Gazette wants to start boasting the city it would bring into prominence the fact that more milk is needed by the local cheese factory and that if enough milk can be secured from the farmers other industries that use the lacal fluid will be established that will bring untold revenue to the farmer and incidentally to Janesville. Anything that helps the county is a benefit to Janesville and the Gazette stands for county wide prosperity not of any individual community.

Some of the wind bags of the last legislative session were marked absent when the first roll call was sounded but there are enough left to make up the deficiency in that respect. When the minutes of the present session are compiled it will be found some of our "consequential" statesmen have occupied hours and days of the legislature's time and not followed the time honored custom of congress by stating they desired to make a speech but would refrain and asked it be printed.

Mexico has kept unusually quiet ever since Pershing left its borders and the report that Villa was dead or dying apparently made no impression upon that individual for within a day or two he is reported to have an armed force of five hundred men ready to defeat any army Carranza might raise. Meanwhile the first citizen hides behind his whiskers and probably says "Carimbina" when anyone mentions the fact that he is an ally of Germany and seeks the "lost provinces."

Davy Jones locker must be filled with ships that have never come into port and the bones of many a brave man and woman lie beneath the decks of the hulls that have been sunk in this war of nations. The tales of the deep have never been unfolded since Atlantis sank beneath the ocean never to reappear, but some day the sea and tombs will give up their dead and then the awful reckoning will come.

In older days one always associated bloodhounds with an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" production and Eliza crossing the ice. Seventy years ago they were used to chase runaway blacks in the southern swamps and later union prisoners who escaped from prison stockades, but today they are a useful adjunct to a police department together with the trained police dog that has been imported from Europe.

Some of those twelve "copperheads" have started on their journey up Salt River and they will never come back. Too bad that the whole twelve, including "Gum Shoe Bill" and "Battling Bob" could not have been forced to walk the same plank as the rest of them at the last election. Too late, the voters see their mistake in nominating a man who repudiates his state and government for a man like Jeffris.

The spring campaign on the question of wet or dry promises to be more interesting than has been experienced in years past. Usually the dry campaign has been perfunctory but this year they have started early and avoided the rush and it looks as though it was going to be a bitter fight to the very end.

Austria has apparently followed the lead of its ally and mentor Germany and declaring itself favoring the "ruthless" submarine warfare that knows no enemy and like Captain Nemo of Jules Verne sinks all vessels beneath the waves out of pure revenge.

If anyone doubted that ground hog theory in times past he has had plenty of evidence to authenticate it this year. The shadow game is all right, but the average taxpayer who has to buy coal to keep up with the climatic conditions does not appreciate it at all.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Why is Janesville in Need of a Home for Women?

In Janesville there are fifteen hundred women who are working for their living; this is a great number compared with the population of the city. It is said that one-third of these are homeless. That little word "homeless" explains the need of a building that will be a home for them.

The writer had a talk with one of the manufacturers who employs at present one hundred and eighty. He said that he was in great need of more girls but it was nearly impossible to get more girls to come to Janesville because he could not find a stopping place for them. He said further, "It is very seldom one finds a city that makes so little effort to accommodate its working women."

AN EXPERT ON COLDS

Comparatively few people realize that a cold is a signal of physical weakness.

To treat a cold with weak physics, alcoholic syrups or drugged pills, may smother the cold but they also reduce the body powers still further and invite more serious sickness.

Scott's Emulsion has always been an expert on colds, because it peculiarly enriches the blood, quickly tones up the forces and strengthens both throat and chest. Try Scott's. Refuse Substitutes.

"TEMPTATION" THE THEME OF TALKS BY BISHOP WEBB

Confirms Class of Eleven at Trinity Church and Eight at Christ Church eYesterday.

Before congregations which completely filled Christ Church in the afternoon and Trinity church at the evening service, Bishop W. W. Webb of Milwaukee confirmed classes in his eleven odd Fellows visit to the new mission. At Christ church he confirmed eight children, and at Trinity eleven received the confirmation.

"Although God does not remove temptation from us," said Bishop Webb, in his sermon on "Temptation," "He gives us a way to escape that makes it more bearable. He gives us His strength. If we yield, we can help him in that. Without it, we cannot fight temptation successfully. And confirmation simply means the giving of God's grace and power to use it. It is not joining the church; we join the church when we are baptized; but it is a strengthening and confirming of the seven-fold gifts of the Holy Ghost."

Each day in our prayers we use the words, "Lead us not into temptation," and we have been using these words for long years. Yet we all feel the power and strength of temptation from the days of our childhood, from the time when we first learned to say "no" to ourselves, we have known this power. There is no one who does not know temptation.

"And sometimes we are prone to think, 'Why does God make it so hard for us to be good, if that is what He wants?' Why does He constantly put temptation in our path?" And in answering these questions we often make certain mistakes about temptation that make resistance difficult. In the first place, we are likely to confuse temptation with sin; temptation comes to us so vividly, so strongly, that we think it must be sin, must be something more than temptation. Yet it is not sin. Our Lord was as tempted as any of us are, yet He did not sin. We all experience it, and just as often, just as frequently as these fall all the temptations of life. But as long as we wish they were gone, no matter how vividly and strong they come, unless we give in, they are not sin. We can always be rid of temptation by giving in to it; but as long as it is knocking at our hearts to get in, it is yet but temptation.

Dream Girl O' Mine PRETTY LITTLE PLAY

One of Chauncey Olcott's Successes Presented at Myers Theatre Last Evening. Featuring Clifford Hippie.

This play, "Dream Girl O' Mine," is the one that made Chauncey Olcott famous. Last night it was presented at Myers Theatre with the young romantic actor, Clifford Hippie, in the leading role. It is a cleverly conceived plot of love and such plottings with Irish characters and one was carried from scenes that almost approached the violent into an atmosphere that had nothing in it but love interests. Clifford Hippie made the character of "Dare O'Donnell" most attractive by introducing a number of pleasing and energetic Irish songs which he sang in a rich and highly cultivated baritone voice. The piece deserved much better support from the public than it received.

Clifford Hippie was a Madison visitor on Friday last.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am going away for a vacation in a few weeks. There are two boys here who I like very much and I would like to write to them. They are all right and would not think of writing. Would it be all right to ask them to correspond with me while I am away? I am sixteen years old.

(2) My boy friends are about seventeen or eighteen years of age. If I introduce them to a girl friend of about my age should I use the prefix "Mr." or just their names?

(3) At parties we play kissing games. Do you think a girl loses self respect if she lets a boy kiss her in these games? PEGGY S.

If you and the boys are very good friends it will be all right to let them go to parties to which you are invited. I would advise an older girl to wait for the boy to ask her.

(4) Preface "Mr." and give the whole name, "Mr. Robert Brown."

(5) Some girls would not play kissing games because they consider them bad taste. Others probably play them and don't even lose their self-respect.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: While at a party I met a young man from New York. He is a very good dancer and as I dance almost all the latest dances we danced almost all the evening. He said I danced very nicely and he could not leave me. I am very attracted to him and want to get all the fellows that the other girls want. Is it because I am a good dancer, or what?

(2) I met a young man only a few times and he wants to take me to a show some night. Do you think I had better wait until I know him better? ELOISE S.

(1) You are probably interesting, attractive, looking, a good dancer and good company generally.

CHEVY CHASE GIRLS
ALL ROOKIES, DELVE
INTO WAR BUSINESS

Washington, March 12.—Sweet girl graduates of the First National Service School, Women's Section of the Navy League will delve deep into the intricacies of warfare when they go into their second encampment at Chevy Chase April 16.

The graduate companies have been organized for the encampment this year and those who served in 1916 are eligible for places. They will take up a higher course off dietetics, camp cookery, map reading, motor car driving, repairing, bicycling, advanced signaling plan and wireless telegraphy.

Former students must have applied for membership in the companies before April 10.

The regular courses, mostly for girl rookies, still have a number of vacancies, but officers in charge of the encampment declare it will be even more successful than last year. Camp will open April 13 and will be broken May 26, giving forty days of military training.

A Pittsburgh idea will be put into effect this time, the red, white and blue system. By this plan those women who attended but one course last year will wear red and white service stripes, while those who took up two courses are entitled to the coveted blue and white stripes.

Plans for the second encampment are practically complete. Women have been enrolled from Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and Boston, as well as many southern cities. Powder puffs and "party dress" will be replaced by that which is more becoming while these women learn soldiering. A large building will be added to the equipment this year where lectures may be held in inclement weather.

Captain E. B. Creasy, who has returned from Haiti, will have charge of laying out the camp, and Mrs. H. Scott, wife of the chief of staff of the army, will head the camp committee.

If the parties are neighborhood or not, it is all right to let the boy take you home. In case the party is in another part of town someone in your family ought to call for you.

(2) The boy should stand back, it is not necessary for the girl to rise unless she is meeting an older woman. "How do you do?" sounds better, I think, than "Pleased to meet you."

Household Hints

A RICE RECIPE.

Now, when potatoes are high in price, the supply of winter vegetables is low and fresh ones are too expensive to be indulged in very frequently, wouldn't it be a good plan to use rice often? Rice is not only a good cereal, vegetable and dessert, but an unexpected leftover.

Rice has more starch than potato.

It furnishes heat and energy and is well adapted as a food for those engaged in hard physical labor.

While because of the lack of protein and fat it is not adapted for a sole article of diet, it holds a very desirable position in our dietary when combined with eggs, milk and cheese.

We should demand the unpolished rice, which has more nutritive value.

This will not only be a nutritive saving but a money one, as the polishing process is an added cost to the production of American rice.

They can get into the house by the same time the furniture gets here, can't they? It looks as if it were all finished," continued Tom.

"Yes, they are cleaning it now.

Tom, you will have to go into the living room if you ever want to get any dinner. I am so busy talking with you that I cannot think what I am doing. These potatoes were just on the point of burning, and potatoes are pure gold and must be treated with respect these days." Tom laughed.

"I'll go and set the table. That will help the good cause along."

Soon the clattering of dishes showed that he was as good as his word. When they were finally seated at the table and everything had been served Marjory began again.

"All the way home on the train Mollie was unfolding her plans. As soon as they are settled she is going to call the ladies of our neighborhood crowd in for a house-warming. She will serve from her new monogram china, and use the pretty tea wagon."

"Oh, so she is going strong with monogram china, is she?" inquired Tom.

"That was a surprise from Father Jaynes. It seems she had expressed a liking for tea wagon, so he ordered it and it came last week. She was so pleased. That blessed man told her when she started for the city that he would foot the bills. She might order what she chose."

Tom whistled. "She is not the one to take advantage of any such liberal offer as that. She bought good stuff, but nothing very expensive. She likes our old furniture, you know, and while the colors are altogether different the furniture arrangement will be similar," continued the talkative little wife.

"As the house arrangement is the same that would have to be to a great extent," said Tom.

"Well, all I can say is if they are as cozy and contented as we are they will be lucky indeed. Marjory passed herself another cup of tea. "So say the whole world," was the enthusiastic response. "Here's hoping they are happy." Tom lifted his cup of tea and was followed by Marjory.

"I must tell her about our toast. It will please her. Tea is a fireside beverage to drink at fireside happiness. It ought to become the fashion." Marjory arose and went around to Tom's place, she bent over him and turned his face up to hers to be kissed.

"Tom," she whispered, "I am so happy sometimes I am afraid."

"Afraid of what, Puss?" Tom caught her hands and held them in place around his neck.

"Oh Look!"
I can eat 'em all—they won't hurt me! That's because they're made with Calumet Baking Powder—and that's why they're pure, tempting, tasty, wholesome—that's why they won't hurt any kid!"

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

GOD'S OUTDOORS—IS HE NOT?

By far the most deadly of all diseases, the most terrible, the second in severity, and the most frequently disastrous numbers, are the respiratory infections—tuberculosis, pneumonia, diphtheria, and the various infections of bronchi, tonsils and nasal lining, all of which have been at one time or another called "colds" and attributed to weather and exposure.

Not necessarily the "sin" of original sin, in this matter of the catarrhal infections. Ignorance is a sin for which we pay in suffering right here in this world.

Parents who care nothing and know nothing of sanitation and hygiene are usually most careful to keep their own homes, but the unfortunate children under their control. So steeped are they in the delusion that neither common sense, every day observation nor science can eradicate it from their minds.

It grows so monotonous, the "taking cold" delusion. Parents who are failing in intelligent direction to explain the effects of fever to blood poisoning, and in this way they are supported by the hard-working newspaper correspondents who accept seriously a Bulletin issued by some humorist attending the famous invalid, which declares that he has merely "contracted a cold" and other such trifles.

BOTH MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Relieved From Pain and Suffering by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"For three or four years I suffered a great deal of pain periodically, so I would have to lie down. My back would ache and I would feel very weak and miserable. I remember how my mother had found relief from pain by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I decided to try it, and thanks to the Compound it helped me just as it did my mother, and I am free from pain, but I am still lame and that general weakness that was so hard to bear. I am able to do my work during such times and am recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer as I did."—Miss MARY TIEDEMANN, 1022 Jefferson Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

To know whether Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, just try it. For advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., confidential, Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaints with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are particularly a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All drugstores.

certainly does heal eczema

In our file of reports, covering a period of twenty years, literally thousands of physicians tell how successful the Resino treatment is for eczema and similar skin troubles. The first use of Resino Ointment and Resino Soaps usually stops the itching and burning, and they soon clear away all trace of the eruption. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval.

Sold by all druggists.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave without the plaster and without the blister.

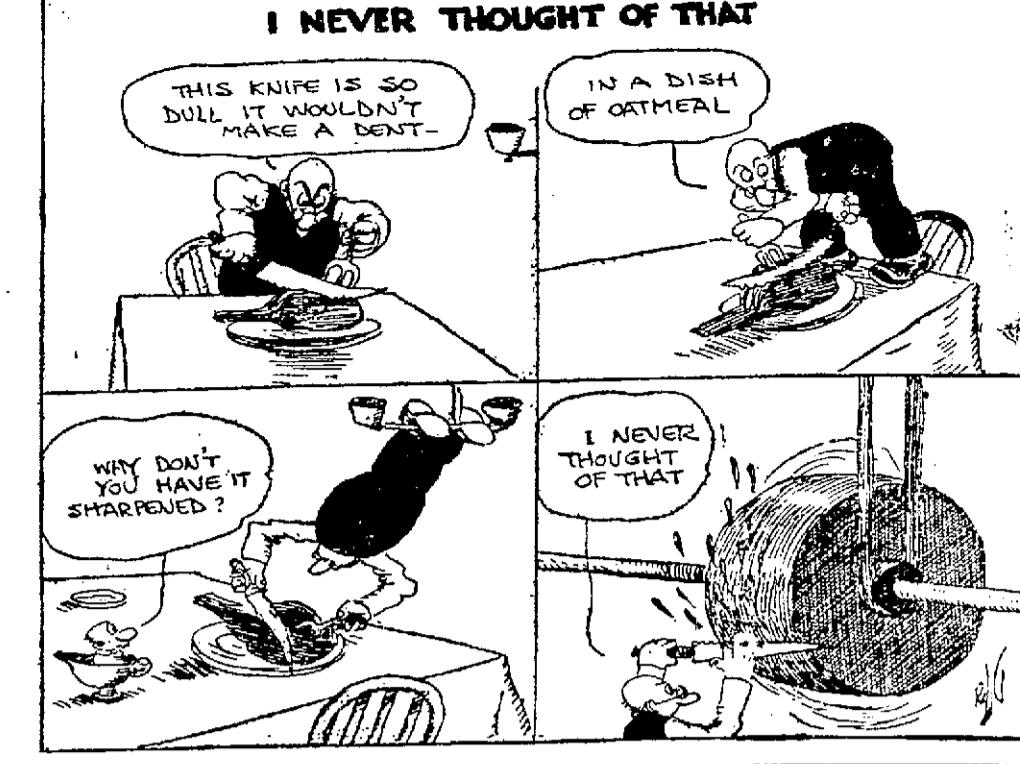

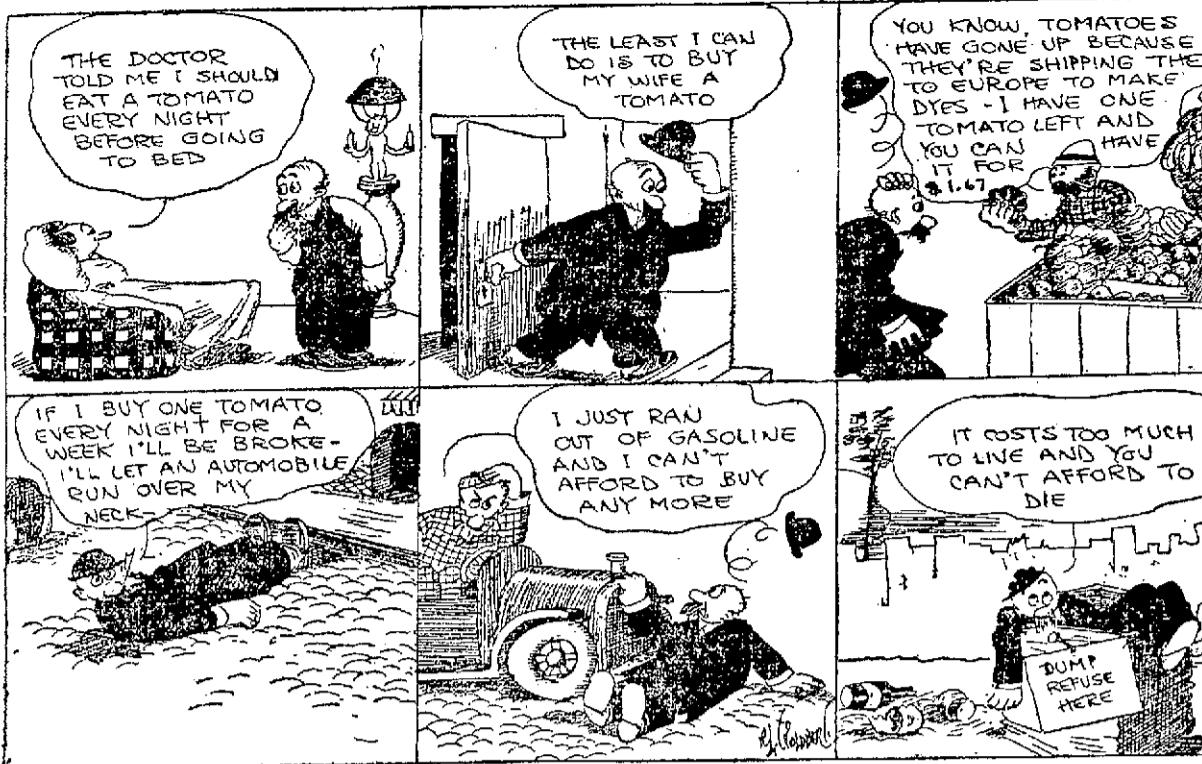

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, child-baths, frosty feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

The Golden Rule

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you"

YOU—as a voter—who would passionately assail any effort to curtail your liberty, have it within your power to destroy our business and the value of our property—and under existing conditions, deny us even the right to ask a jury of our own citizens to decide whether we are entitled to compensation or not.

In other words, our property can be fiscally and we are powerless to present our case in the courts. There is no law on the statute books of Wisconsin which gives us even the right to bring suit as other individuals and corporations may do.

Is that fair?

Is it fair that you can demand compensation for property losses when the losses are due to an act of the Government, State or City, while we are denied the right to simply ask compensation sufficient to cover the loss of our property and machinery rendered useless by your vote or the act of your accredited governmental representatives? Is it just and honest that we should be deprived of our equality of rights as decreed by the Constitution?

There is only one interpretation to equality—it means equal rights to all. We alone of all citizens and industries, paying heavily in taxes and fees toward the support of Federal and State Government, haven't the right to present in court a plea for compensation.

A State law granting to the Brewing Industry the rights that others enjoy would be in line with the Golden Rule.

"Come, George," urged the teacher. "Why is it you talk through when you use one?"

"The 'hello' girl," was the quick reply.

RUN-DOWN WOMAN

Made Strong by Our Vinol.

Fort Edward, N.Y.—"I was in a run-down, nervous and weak condition, so I could not do the housework for my little family of three. I had taken cod liver oil emulsions and other remedies without benefit."

"An how is she gettin' on?"

"Oh, not so bad," said Mrs. McKay. "There's only one thing the matter she can't abide her man, but then there's always something."

A teacher asked her class to write an essay on London. She was surprised to read the following in one attempt:
